Weekend Events

We trust that your first week of 2012 has been a joyous one!

The Coming of the Masters

We are very excited about our upcoming Weekend Events, the “Violet Soul Manifesto” in Vancouver on Jan. 13th and 14th, and then on Jan. 20th in Saskatoon it is the “Coming of the Masters”. Akasha has spoken in depth about the importance of the “Coming of the Masters Gathering”, and we invite you to click on the link below to read about what an extraordinary weekend this will be.

Welcome to the Resurrection Conclave

We are grateful and feel so very honored that our new venue, the Fairmont Hotel Vancouver will be hosting our Resurrection Conclave. It has been truly magical and extraordinary the way that this exquisite, elegant Hotel came to be our home for the Vancouver Conclaves, and we feel certain that our Beloved Akasha’s Magnet’s Presence has intervened and presented us with this opportunity of being in a spacious, opulent venue with a Renaissance and Ascended Master Feeling. Of course there was much action to be taken on our side, but we have confidently stepped forward in trusting that this is the perfect place for us, and we are certain that you will feel the same way once you step inside its doors. In order to honor our Beloved Akasha, Asun and their Ascended Master Guests (and also all of you...) we have taken a giant leap of faith and have trusted that although some adjustments in costs were required you would answer the call to come to Conclave.

We have had to bring the Vancouver Conclave price in alignment with the price of Montreal and Edmonton. The Fairmont Hotel Vancouver has graciously discounted the sleeping room rate for us to $139.00 (Single or Double) which is an extraordinary price for a 6 star Hotel, located Downtown. (If you are sharing a room it works out to be just $22.00 more per night per person than at the Holiday Inn, and no construction noise!)

Even if you live in Vancouver, may we invite you to gift yourself this wonderful opportunity, and pamper yourself by taking advantage of this offer while attending the Conclave.

We will be having dinner on Saturday night on the rooftop floor, with magnificent views of the city below. After years of holding the highest vision and desire for a more graceful place, it is our delight to invite you to our new Conclave home.
